FROM THE HEAD

The higher educational institution, more specifically, the academic department of the institution should develop generic skills of the students that help them to lead their life successfully. These generic skills include critical thinking, problem-solving skill, communication skill, emotional skill etc. Development of these skills and inculcation of values like – self-confidence, honesty, sociability, leadership etc. is prime concern for an institution in general and for an academic department of the institution in particular. These skills and value can be developed through an academic atmosphere maintained in the institution and interaction with the community. With this aim in view the "Education Department" of Dakshin Kamrup College, Mirza has been organizing activities like – lecture programme, extension activity, publication of wall magazine, hand-written magazine etc.

Keeping in view the present age of science and technology and to cover a large number of readers, this time the bulletin is published as 'e-bulletin'. I offer my heartfelt thanks to the editor of the bulletin, Principal of the college, the faculty members of the Department, students and well-wishers.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT AND EXPECTATIONS

We are in a transforming phase in every aspect of our society. In the education sector too, we are gradually entering into a changing environment. National Education Policy-2020, emphasizes the overhauling of the education system in the country. Be it quality, be it accessibility, be it equality, everything will be taken care of according to the policy. A strong school education system will be built in coming years. A liberal education system will be the component of higher education in the country.

Education department of our college is also trying to cope with the changes which is going to take place in coming days. The Department will try to impart course structured knowledge as well as national along with regional values, culture etc. to its students. Again, students are expected to inculcate the global perspective which is indeed need of the time. Education department will try to make its students better citizen equipped with knowledge, character and lifelong learning attitude. To achieve this, every stakeholder i.e., students, teachers, parents, administrators, policymakers will have to work in proper coordination.

IS ONLINE LEARNING THE FUTURE OF EDUCATION?

Online learning is one of the fastest growing modes of education in the 21st century and people are widely accepting it. It has become one of the most popular means of education and nowadays it is quite easy and convenient to have an online class. All of us can use the internet and learning through it can really take education to another level. E-learning is one of the best platforms and is one of the latest mediums of education. It is getting popular day by day and is also one of the easy and convenient mediums. Study materials are easily available online and one can easily access any course of their choice. There are many institutions that have started online classes and students find it more convenient. They can save their travel time and can easily focus on their studies. E-learning is getting more popular than offline classes. They provide everything like lectures, solving the question and answers, discussion on a topic etc. This is helpful not only for students but also for parents. They do not have to take their child everywhere because classes are available at home. And thus, it can be said that online learning is going to be the future of education along with offline learning.

WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT

Women's empowerment is a critical factor in building a more equitable, fair and just society. Women are equal members of our society and it is our responsibility to ensure that they have the same opportunities and rights as men. However, despite the progress that has been made in recent years, women still face significant challenges including discrimination, minimal representation in leadership positions etc. Empowering women means giving them the tools and resources they need to achieve their full potential. This includes access to education, healthcare and economic opportunities. It also means creating an environment where women are free from violence and discrimination and where their voices are heard and their opinions are valued. One of the ways to empower women is to ensure that they have equal representation in all sphere of life, including politics, business and the media. This will help to ensure that women's perspective and experiences are taken into account in important decision-making process. In addition, we need to challenge traditional gender roles and stereotypes that limit women's opportunities and potential. We need to support and encourage women to pursue their passions and ambitions, regardless of what society may say. Women's empowerment is not just about individual women, it is about creating a better world for everyone. A world where there is an equal opportunity to reach their full potential, regardless of their gender.

So, let us all work together to create a more empowering and supportive environment for women, let us support and encourage our mothers, sisters, daughter and friends to reach for the stars and achieve their dreams.
